329 PROCEDURAL BUSINESS

329.1 Apologies were received from John Eyles and from Mike Bojczuk.

330 WELCOME TO THE AGM

330.1 The Chair welcomed everyone to the OPC AGM.

331 MINUTES

331.1 Michael Whitty noted that point 325.1 in the draft minutes of the July meeting refer to Grey Matters being in receipt of a grant of £2000. This is inaccurate and the minute will be amended to reflect this.

331.2 The minute of the OPC meeting of 18 July 2017 was agreed and signed as an accurate record subject to the amendment detailed at 331.1 above.

331.3 There was discussion of the Open Market toilets. The Chair had been unable to contact the Councillor responsible, but will endeavour to do so soon. It was agreed that the Chair would also seek to make contact with the market manager to argue that access to the toilets must be improved. Action

332 ELECTION OF OFFICERS

332.1 Colin Vincent was nominated as Chair and was unanimously elected.

332.2 Michael Whitty was nominated as Vice Chair and was unanimously elected.

332.3 Mike Bokczuk was nominated as Treasurer and unanimously elected.

332.4 There were no nominations for the post of Secretary. The Chair and all OPC members expressed their gratitude for the exceptional work that Penny Morley has done whilst in this post. This was echoed from the floor.

333 ANNUAL REPORT

333.1 Members noted that this year's annual report has been published.

334 THE BIG CONVERSATION - CARING TOGETHER IN BRIGHTON & HOVE (OUR SUSTAINABILITY & TRANSFORMATION PARTNERSHIP)

334.1 This item was introduced by Thomas Gurney, Head of Communications, Brighton & Hove Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) and High Weald Lewes Havens CCG. Mr Gurney gave a presentation on the development of the Sussex and East Surrey (SESA) Sustainability & Transformation Partnership (STP).

334.2 Mr Gurney told members that there was currently no overarching STP-wide plan. There are detailed locality plans (e.g. for Brighton & Hove Caring Together), and there is thematic planning across the footprint (e.g. for mental health and for urgent care), but there is no grand plan as such.

334.3 One of the aims of the STP is to ensure that there is consistent quality of care across the SESA area. However, there may still be inconsistency of care between SESA and other regions: STPs are not intended to introduce standardised care nationally.

334.4 The STP will also seek to make healthcare more patient-focused. In the past, NHS services have often been designed for the convenience of staff rather than patients.

334.5 The STP needs to address really significant quality issues. This is particularly so at Brighton & Sussex University Hospitals Trust (BSUH) which is in Special Measures for both quality and finances, and is consistently failing to hit targets for A&E waiting times, elective Referral to Treatment times (RTT) and cancer waits. East Sussex Healthcare Trust (ESHT), which runs general hospitals in Eastbourne and St Leonards is also in Special Measures. In addition, several local CCGs are struggling, with Horsham & Mid Sussex now under Legal Directions (the CCG equivalent of Special Measures). Brighton & Hove CCG was under Legal Directions, but has recently been up-rated to 'good'.

334.6 The SESA area is facing increasing demand without the prospect of equivalent funding increases. The financial challenge is very significant, but this is not just about money. It is also about ensuring that the available resources are used as efficiently as possible, that pointless duplication is eliminated and that all local health and care organisations work together effectively.

334.7 STP communications were poorly handled in the early stages of the initiative. This was largely because there was actually very little to report in the early months, but much more should have been done to engage with the public. Now that more concrete ideas are emerging there is the real potential for valuable engagement and this is now being progressed. It should be noted that Brighton CCG is the only CCG in the SESA area that is engaging on the whole STP rather than just its local STP plans. This is in response to local public interest. In terms of formal consultation rather than engagement, there is to date nothing that requires consultation (e.g. no significant service changes have been identified).

334.8 In response to queries about privatisation, Mr Gurney explained that there has been a significant independent sector presence in the NHS for many years (e.g. GP practices, which are profit-making small businesses). NHS procurement laws also mean that it is impossible to rule out any contract being awarded to an independent sector provider. However, the SESA STP is not designed to increase privatisation of local health services. There are specific public worries about Accountable Care models, since these are often associated with the insurance-based American healthcare system. However, the NHS is so complex, and offers so little remuneration for providers, that it is really not an attractive proposition for private healthcare concerns. Similarly, although in theory Multi-Disciplinary Community Provider (MCP) contracts could be awarded to independent sector providers, the MCP initiative is not designed to increase private sector presence in the local health economy.

334.9 The Chair thanked Mr Gurney for attending the meeting.

335 THE FUTURE OF THE OPC

335.1 This item was introduced by Penny Morley, who outlined three options for the future of the OPC:

- Beginning conversations with like-minded community & voluntary sector organisations in order to plan for a future without council funding
- Continuing to lobby Councillors to restore funding
- Vote to dissolve the OPC.

Ms Morley noted that when previously discussed by OPC members at a business meeting, the favoured option was Option 1.

335.2 Members discussed whether further lobbying Councillors was likely to prove productive. Ms Morley argued that it was not, as two of the three political groups had recently voted to discontinue OPC funding at a Policy, Resources & Growth Committee meeting and were unlikely to have altered their stance since then.

335.3 Jack Hazelgrove proposed that Option 2 be amended: the OPC should continue in its present form until early 2019 (using the £5K transitional funding offered by the council to cover 18/19 support costs), and should then lobby all candidates for the 2019 local elections, seeking restoration of financial support.

335.4 There was debate as to whether option 1 would be feasible, with no OPC Secretary in position to undertake negotiation with potential partners. Lynne Shields suggested that some of the transitional funding could potentially be used to make the post of Secretary a paid position.

335.5 Members also discussed: using lower cost meeting venues (a Care Home in Carden Avenue has offered free use of a room); and drafting a new OPC constitution (the Chair confirmed that Mike Bojczuk has offered to do this).

335.6 It was agreed that the decision on options should be deferred until the next OPC Business meeting (October 2017), and that no speaker should be booked for this meeting so as to give plenty of time for debate.
