

Brighton and Hove Communities Coordinator

Focusing on community cohesion, civic participation, and tackling hate and prejudice

Role:

- To build an understanding of our local communities including how well people get along together and feel they belong, and listen to issues which may affect community cohesion
- To support residents, community groups and organisations to work on projects which bring people together, promote cohesion, and tackle hate and prejudice
- Build links between groups interested in, or working on, these topics
- Raise awareness of issues such as hate crime and encourage reporting
- Support relevant campaigns and events
- Relevant projects could include, for example, inter-faith work, multi-cultural work, work to bring people of diverse backgrounds together including isolated women

Links and Support

I can....

- Support community groups working to promote cohesion in applying for funding, and for help with their communications
- Help community groups working on cohesion to network and build links with other groups
- Help residents and community groups put out messaging and communications about positive activity around cohesion which is taking place in their community
- Work with community groups who would like to put on events in their local community to bring people together such as “great get togethers”
- Meet with local residents to discuss issues which may be impacting cohesion in the local community
- Potential to organise training sessions on relevant topics such as hate crime.

I would like to hear from.....

..... Residents and community groups who would like to talk about issues impacting cohesion in the local area

..... Residents and community groups who are already doing work to build cohesion in the local area, or would like to get involved
